ABOUT MYSELF

An innovative and dynamic thinker, I consistently seek opportunities for academic and professional growth. I've been attentively handling excellent performance in both academics and extracurricular activities, as well as pursuing my passion for sports and music, showcasing a diverse range of talents. Born into a family with a proud patriotic tradition, I am driven by a deep aspiration to become a leader and contribute to transforming the socio-economic status of Vietnam.

Ability

Well-rounded, maintaining equilibrium and achieving exceptional results across academics, extracurriculars, athletics, and the arts, all without disrupting my natural biological rhythm.

Adaptability, competent at "playing it by ear" confidently in any situation. Embracing unexpected circumstances and turning them into opportunities to offer more insightful and impactful perspectives.

Authoritative Leadership, inspires talented individuals to excel by recognizing and leveraging each person's unique abilities and strengths, thereby maximizing their potential while working toward a shared goal.

Perseverance, remain resilient and steadfast in the face of challenges, keeping my head up and pushing forward even when the path is uncertain or difficult. At the same time, I embrace the importance of backup plans, continuously learning, and adapting to strengthen my chances of success.

Aspiration

Promote the advocacy of a circular economy, address the drawbacks of the current economy that cause detrimental effects on the environment and quality of life, promoting greener and more sustainable growth.

Becoming a visionary and strategic leader, a leader who could bring impactful positive changes to the nuances of Vietnam's economy by fiercely combating white-collar crime, which would improve the clarity and reliability of the whole economy.

Creativity

I have a natural talent for generating exceptional and unconventional ideas by incorporating divergent thinking, collaborating with others, and drawing inspiration from diverse sources. One of my standout achievements was creating a unique and impactful video during my campaign for the Student Council presidential election. With a fresh, electrifying approach that was equal parts visionary and unapologetically cool, I shattered expectations and left a lasting mark on Vinschool's history. The video didn't just win over the crowd—it became the backbone of a campaign that secured my victory and continues to shape my leadership style today.

Commitment

Confident in the belief that my potential is limitless, I am always ready to put in the effort to do whatever is necessary to grow, evolve, and perfect myself in all areas of life. I channel this belief into motivation to work harder, learn continuously, and improve every day. Furthermore, I believe that perseverance and dedication are just as vital as talent, and, as Ronaldo always says, practice makes perfect.
